

Copyboy.... Signing Off.

Contributed by copyboy
Friday, 23 April 2010

Well, this is rather weird to write. It's mere days before the 4th b-day of the Fraggots and here I am writing this letter of 'resignation.'

It's something that has been on my mind for awhile now. And with the current events going on in RL, I felt like the time was right.

I won't get too 'woe is me' on you, but in February I was diagnosed with late onset, Type 1 diabetes. This along w/ a change in work schedule and other personal bits just kind of tipped the scale.

Fraggot Gaming is now in the capable hands of Atzeecs, who is assembling many members to help out.

I want to thanks to everyone that has been around and contributed to this wonderful community, in any way.

I'll still be around playing various games, and in a ghostly form on the forums. So this isn't exactly "bye."

Just, See ya around.

-Louis / copyboy